Notes

Notice

Since 2021, a new building and housing register has been used in the city of Zurich. As a result of the associated technical adjustments, changes and adjustments, individual data may differ from previous publications.

Note:

Reference dateDateYear corresponds to the entire year period.

Property type

- Public property: Federal government, Canton of Zurich, City of Zurich including municipal foundations and other public property
- Housing cooperatives: Only housing cooperatives
- Other private companies: joint stock, limited partnerships and limited partnerships, commercial, productive, insurance and other cooperatives, limited liability companies, pension funds, associations, private foundations, mixed property and religious communities
- Private individuals: individuals, communities and several natural persons
- In floor ownership: condominiums

Status and follow- up:

The building and housing register of the city of Zurich is constantly updated.

Variables with several variants

Certain variables are listed in different forms. The "Lang" variant describes the content (e.g. StatZoneLang describes the statistical zone, possible values are Central or Oberdorf). The "Cd" variant encodes the variable alphanumerically, quasi as a short form (Central and Oberdorf are 1104 and 1201). The "Sort" variant encodes the variable numerically (Central and Oberdorf are 5 and 4) and allows sorting. "Cd" and "sort" can also be identical.

Statistical housing

Statistical apartments include existing apartments that have a cooking facility and are used for residential purposes (not apartments for other purposes).

NZZ article: "Dispunial on Zurich housing policy"

NZZ article from 25.5.2018. The occupied cooking area is probably the most controversial piece of land in the city of Zurich. Now a housing estate is to be built on it. But who is allowed to...
